UW-Green Bay Education

UW-Green Bay, with its vibrant bay shore campuses, is the fastest-growing UW with a mission to provide educational access to all who seek to learn. Committed to driving the region's prosperity, the University is expanding educational opportunities and developing innovative programs. The University of Wisconsin-Green Bay is a multi-campus regional comprehensive university offering over 200 undergraduate majors and minors, 17 master's degrees and 2 doctoral programs.

Major Advantage

In all academic areas from business to engineering to psychology and nursing, the curriculum is evolving and designed to provide students the tools necessary to evaluate and address current and future problems as leaders, entrepreneurs, and innovators of tomorrow—to be critical thinkers and problem solvers.

Valuable Skills

The future will favor people who are flexible, highly adaptable, entrepreneurial, and effective communicators. Students at UW-Green Bay will be prepared and challenged to integrate ideas from different fields, seek connections, consider more ideas rather than fewer, to manage uncertainty rather than fear it, and to always remember there is rarely one answer.

Connections Outside the Classroom

Students, faculty and staff connect learning to life, every day, through research, internships, paid employment and volunteer involvement in the community.

Green Bay and its surrounding region provide a wealth of opportunity, and our students reap the advantage of strong community partnerships. Long known as a manufacturing, papermaking and food-processing center and the home of the Packers, Green Bay is a thriving hub in healthcare, insurance and tourism sectors. With a metropolitan population of about 330,000, Green Bay serves as the trade, transportation and cultural heart of an increasingly diverse region of nearly one million residents extending across much of northern Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. Green Bay is home to excellent museums, parks, theatres and sports-related facilities. It is the gateway to popular Midwest vacation destinations in the scenic Door Peninsula and Wisconsin's northern forests.
